Complete Tie-Up of U. S. Coal Industry Is Sought By United Mine Workers

200,000 NON-UNION MEN ASKED TO JOIN IN STRIKE APRIL 1

Union Leaders Hope Their Action Will Stop the Mining of a Pound of Coal

Stone Sees Lewis

Engineers' Head Declines to State Purpose of Meeting With Miners' Chief

Cleveland, March 24. — A complete tie-up of the nation's entire coal industry by 200,000 non-union miners joining the ranks of a half million union workers was the program adopted tonight by the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America for the nation-wide strike set for April 1.

By a unanimous vote of its 116 members, the committee affirmed the policy of a general suspension of its union workers which prohibited the consummation of single state agreements, and followed this by directing district union officials to ask non-union men to join in the strike. The unanimity of action later in the day brought about a final adjournment tonight, although the committee had planned to continue sessions tomorrow.

The call to the non-union men provided that "the international and district unions exert all their power and influence to bring about a strike in the non-union coal fields of America."

Little Discussion Precedes Adoption.

The resolution was offered by George Van Bittner of Pittsburgh, Pa., who represented the provisional Kansas union organization at the committee meeting, and it was adopted without objection and practically without discussion.

The endorsement of the policy of a general suspension of the union miners was the committee's acceptance of the program laid down by the union's convention a month ago, the suspension being ordered, with the avowed purpose of gaining wage increases for anthracite miners and retaining present basic wages for the soft coal miners.

Although taking action, which the union leaders said they hoped would stop the mining of a pound of coal after April 1, the committee declared itself as not intending to cause any public suffering. In line with this stand, the committee authorized the district union officials to permit any mine to be operated whenever necessary to meet an emergency. Under this program, the officials said, it would be possible to supply fuel for public utilities and institutions whenever the big stocks now on hand run low. The aim of the strike, it was explained in this connection, was to prevent the mining of commercial coal as a means of forcing operators to concede to the union's wage demands.

In addition, the committee also affirmed the provision of the strike call arranging for all necessary protection being given the mines during the strike. The only condition added by the committee was that pumpmen, engineers, firemen and others who will remain at work, shall receive the present scale of wages. Ten thousand men, it was estimated, would remain at the mines under this provision, but the selection of these was left to district union officials.

Threatened Rift Disappears

The rift in union forces threatened before the meeting by the expected fight of Frank Harrington, the Illinois district union chief and opponent of International President John L. Lewis, disappeared almost immediately after the meeting opened when Mr. Farrington announced that he would not make a contract with Illinois operators without the sanction of the policy committee.

Protracted debate, however, was started when the question of affirming the convention program for a strike barring any contracts being made in soft coal fields until a settlement had been reached for the central competitive field, was brought up for discussion by Lee Hall, president of the Ohio miners. Mr. Farrington urged the adoption of what he termed a "flexible" policy, contending that finally he expected the strike would be broken in various outlying fields.

"We will hold the lines as long as anybody," declared the Illinois leader, "but when we see it has reached the place that it is going to break, we are going to do what we can to preserve the district organization."

Later, Mr. Farrington told the committee that Illinois officials would not pursue a strike policy which would lead to utter demoralization. Several committeemen answered Mr. Farrington, among them William Roy of Ohio, who urged the miners to "stay out until our demands are granted," and Vice President Phillip Murray, who declared than any negotiations with operators which he indicated would be held by Illinois and Northern West Virginia union officials, should be plainly stated not to be with the view of signing a contract with the operators without the approval of the policy committee. Mr. Farrington replied that while he would meet with the operators he did not intend to sign a contract at this time. On the contrary, he said, the Illinois miners would join in the strike.

West Virginia Will "Stick."

During the debate, some committeemen said miners in some parts of West Virginia would not be able to remain on strike longer than three weeks. It also was asserted that the miners in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama were not prepared for a long strike.

Fred Mooney, secretary of the West Virginia miners, told the meeting, however, that the union men of his district would remain idle "as long as they have a crust of bread," and he singled out the present strike in Mingo county as an example of the fortitude of the union workers.

After the debate had continued all afternoon, marked by frequent speeches of the Illinois leader, the committee quickly disposed of its main business with Mr. Farrington supporting the policy of the general suspension, and for the issuance of a call to the non-union miners to join the strike. With the quick disposal of the other questions, the committee then adjourned to meet again at the call of President Lewis.

Warren S Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, conferred tonight with President Lewis, but the subject matter of their conference was not announced. Before the conference, Mr. Stone declined to make any statement and Mr. Lewis said they might discuss the alliance of railroad men and miners to oppose wage reductions. Mr. Stone was the only one of the Big Four Brotherhood leaders to confer with the miners' president.

GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE ON WAGE CONTROVERSY

Washington, March 24.—There is no likelihood that a suspension of operations in both the bituminous and anthracite coal fields on April 1 can be prevented, it was said today at the White House. The government was declared to have "exhausted its resources in the way of suggesting a conference" between operators and miners that might forestall the strike.

Though the situation will be scrutinized as it develops, the government has no plan for taking action before April 1, it was added, and what will be done after April 1 will be determined by the effects of the strike itself.

From an administration viewpoint, it was said by a high official who discussed the matter following its consideration at today's cabinet session, it is considered fair to say that while the bituminous coal mine operators have been the principal obstacle to the assembling of a conference between the miners and their employers which might have adjusted the strike in advance, similar proposals looking to a conference which might alleviate the difficulties were resisted by the miners last October, and later when the government advanced them. This, however, the administration does not consider as constituting a good excuse for the bituminous operators, particularly those in the central competitive field, refusing to enter upon negotiations now.

At the same time, the government is disposed to recognize, according to the official viewpoint explained today, that there is a very difficult problem to be worked out in the coal industry. There has developed coal mine capacity far in excess of the country's needs, it was pointed out, especially since high prices, high wages and high freight rates have practically wiped out the export trade in coal. The operators in the central competitive field are faced with the necessity of maintaining their properties in production against increasingly severe competition. This condition in the industry makes it imperative that far-reaching adjustments in wages be made. In consequence, the government is not understood to be contempalting interference until the gravity of the situation makes it imperative.

Organized Labor's Viewpoint.

Washington, March 24.—Coal miners in the approaching national strike through the union fields will be fighting the fight of all workers against arbitrary rulership, against the anti-union shop, against profiteering, against injustice," Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, declared here today in a statement expressing the viewpoint of organized labor. People in general, he said, have come to "an unusual degree of understanding of the issues in the coal mining situation."

"It is generally understood that the coal operators have two aims in driving the miners out of the mines at this time," he added. "The first, to crush the union and thus open the way to wage reductions and complete employer autocracy.

"Second, to profiteer on coal now above ground and to maintain, if not raise, prices for coal next fall. Watch for rising prices as the strike goes on."

WILLIAMS RECORD STAFF SUSPENDED

"Indecency and Obscenity" of College Newspaper Lead to Dean Howe's Order

Williamstown, Mass., March 24.—The entire staff of the Williams Record, the chief undergraduate newspaper of Williams college, with the exception of three men, were tonight homeward bound, under orders of Dean George E. Howes, with instructions to remain away from the college until after the spring recess which begins April 1. What Dean Howes termed "the indecency and obscenity" of the issue of March 18 of The Record was given as the reason for the wholesale suspension.

George Hurley of New York city, a janitor, who contributed a drawing to the issue, was suspended indefinitely. He is a member of the board of the Purple Cow, a college humorous publication.

Three members of The Record who visited the dean's office proved to his satisfaction that they had nothing to do with the issue in question. Under their guidance, The Record, which for many decades has been issued continuously as the student's newspaper, will continue to appear.

Other members of the staff refused to visit the dean's office and ask pardon, saying that this would be merely "a cheap competition to see who was the best crawler."

President Harry A. Garfield and Prof. Carl Maxey of the English department left town immediately after having been given instructions that the suspension action be taken. Dean Howes refused to make any statement for the press.

The student council, after a meeting this afternoon, issued an edict expressing indignation over the suspension. The edict said that "it is to be regretted that the action has been taken without consulting the representative organization of the undergraduate body."

A students' strike meeting was called during the day, but no action was taken. The opinion was expressed at the meeting that the question at stake did not win mass action on the part of the undergraduate body. Members of the staff who received their suspension orders in their morning's mail today appeared at their classes as usual, but were told to "leave the room."

The issue of The Record in question was a parody on the Springfield Republican. Publication of parody numbers as the final effort of retiring newspaper boards has been the custom at Williams for several years.

MARK OF HOMAGE U. S. SOLDIER DEAD

Governor Requests Fitting Observance on Occasion of Return of Last 1,500 Bodies

Albany, March 24. — Governor Miller today issued a proclamation that the hour between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m. Sunday, April 2, be fittingly observed as a mark of homage to the United States soldiers who died in the World war. The occasion is the return to the United States from France of 1,500 bodies of dead soldiers, the last contingent to be brought back to the United States.

The proclamation reuests "that all churches hold suitable exercises on that day, that church bells be tolled at intervals," during the hour specified, and "that the national colors be displayed at half staff." The proclamation said that it was desired to "commemorate the deeds and sufferings of the 44,000 soldiers, sailors and marines whose bodies have already been transferred and now rest in the soil of their native land, as well as of the 1,500 whose bodies are the last to arrive."

Funeral services will be held in Brooklyn for the dead during the hour named.

STOWAWAY NEARLY STARVED DURING TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

New York, March 24.—When the hatch covers of the Royal Mail liner Orbita were removed upon her arrival here today from Hamburg, sailors discovered the unconscious and emaciated form of 19-year-old Fritz Ahrens, a former cabin boy on German steamships. He had stowed away and been a prisoner in the dark recesses of the hold during the long trip across the Atlantic without anything to eat.

He was hardly breathing when he was removed to the ship's hospital and it took several hours to revive him. Physicians marvelled that he had lived through the voyage.

Burch, scheduled to begin here Monday.

This announcement is made by Paul Schenck, chief counsel for Burch, at whose first trial the jury disagreed. Schenck added: "Her testimony will help to free Burch."

Mrs. Obenchain's second trial has been set to begin June 5.

FIVE-DAY WEEK IN FORD PLANTS

"Every Man Needs More Than One Day a Week for Rest and Recreation"

WAGES UNCHANGED

Industry Will Maintain Present Output and Take on About 3,000 More Men

Detroit, March 24.—Adoption of the 40-hour week as a permanent policy in all plants of the Ford Motor company aws announced tonight by Edsel B. Ford, president of the company. Under the new plan, the factories will be closed on Saturday and Sunday ad about 3,000 men will be added to the force.

The change will affect approximately 50,000 employes who will continue to receive the minimum $6 a day wage, but will work five eight-hour days weekly. New employes, however, will receive a minimum of $5 daily, the pre-war scale.

In making the announcement, Mr. Ford said he had reached the conclusion that the 40-hour week was practical, that the additional day of rest would prove a benefit to the workers, and that the production schedules of the Ford industries could be so arranged as to maintain the present output on the curtailed working week.

Mr. Ford's Announcement

"Every man," Mr. Ford's announcement said, "needs more than one day a week for rest and recreation."

"The Ford company always has sought to promote ideal home life for its employes. We believe that in order to live properly every man should have more time to spend with his family; more time for self-improvement; more time for building up the place called home.

"Market demands warrant the operation of the Ford plants six days weekly, but we are satisfied that the five-day week is practical and it has been adopted as a permanent policy of the company. Adjustments naturally are necessary. In equipment and in man power the plants will have to be placed on a basis where they can take care of production in five days weekly. It will mean work for 3,000 more men. It will mean more machinery. The goal cannot be fully realized at once, but as soon as possible it is the aim of the company to adjust its business so that it can be carried on without work on Saturday and Sunday."

The new schedule will first be put into operation at the Highland Park plant and extended later to all factories, but probably not to the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, owned by the Ford interests. Sunday work, however, has been all but eliminated on the railroad.

Mr. Ford said he believed a greater demand for motor vehicles, particularly commercial, was an indication of improvement in business generally.

BAPTIST MINISTER FAVORS "COURTING" IN CHURCH

Spokane, Wash., March 24.—Exception to news accounts quoting him as favoring "spooning" in Baptist young people's society meetings was taken today by Dr. Owen C. Brown of Los Angeles, head of adult work for the American Baptist Publication society. The term he used, he declared, was "courting."

"'Courting' is one of the most sacred expressions in life, but 'spooning' suggests a different meaning," he declared. "Christian homes are the salvation of America and church and Sunday school teachers should do their most to see that our future homes are generally Christian.

"I much prefer having matches made in the midst of Christian influences rather than with young people outside, which often have a tendency to lead away from the church."

FARM CO-OP ORGANIZATIONS WILL UNITE IN FEDERATION

Syracuse, March 24.— Plans were perfected at a meeting of representatives from practically every agricultural co-operative organization in the state here today for a federation which includes delegates from the different associations, to correlate the objects and work of each more efficiently. The plans will now be presented to the boards of directors of the various associations for approval, following which the federation will be established. More economical production and greater profit in distribution are expected by those interested in the movement to result from the formation of the federation.

TIDAL WAVE SWEEPS ALONG NORTHERN ADRIATIC SHORE

Rome, March 24.— A tidal wave today swept along the northern shore of the Adriatic, flooding numerous villages and extending as far as Trieste, where the whole waterfront and several large city squares were completely inundated. Numerous marine warehouses were isolated and traffic was almost completely tied up.

GOTHAM'S POPULATION

New York, March 24. — New York city has increased its population 219,000 since the federal census was taken in 1921, making the present population 5,839,738, said a statement issued today by the health department. The population is estimated each year by the department in order to compute the city's death rate

SEEK TO ESTABLISH ALIBI FOR RICKARD

Friends Declare He Passed Day Alleged Assault Took Place at Office and Football Game

New York, March 24.—A composite account of the purported actions of Tex Rickard during the day and early night of last November 12 was given today by half a dozen witnesses called to establish an alibi for the sports promoter against the charge that on that date he criminally assaulted Sarah Schoenfeld, 15-year-old school girl. Upon this charge, a supreme court jury is trying Rickard.

Friends and business associates of the promoter testified that he worked at his office in Madison Square Garden through the forenoon of November 12 and witnessed the Penn-Dartmouth football game at the Polo Grounds that afternoon. From the game they said he returned to his office, then went home to dinner, and later visited the Garden again, remaining there until after 10 p. m.

Earlier in the trial, Sarah Schoenfeld and her 12-year-old chum, Nellie Gasko, told the jury they met Rickard at the Garden about 3 o'clock that afternoon and that he told them to be at an apartment house in West 47th street that night at 7:30. Both girls swore they kept the appointment and Sarah testified that the alleged assault occurred that evening.

Today Max D. Steuer, Rickard's chief counsel, told the jury it would be proved that Rickard had used the basement of the house as a storage place for his private liquor stock, and that he had been there only once, and that time solely in connection with the liquor.

Late this afternoon and tonight, a number of character witnesses were called in, among them Kermit Roosevelt, son of the former president, and Denver S. Dickerson, who was governor of Nevada when Rickard staged the Johnson-Jeffries fight at Reno, and who knew the promoter four years before, when Rickard conducted gambling houses and saloons at Goldfield and Rawhide, Nevada, then hustling mining towns.

Other men who had known Rickard in Nevada and also as the owner of a joint saloon and gambling house in Alaska during the gold rush of 1900, testified that his place was known as being "absolutely on the square."

Kermit Roosevelt was subjected to strenuous quizzing by the prosecution. He said he first met Rickard in South America ten years ago and that his family and the Rickards had since become intimate friends.

REGULAR ARMY TROOPS NOT TO BE WITHDRAWN

Washington, March 24. — Provisions of the army appropriations bill which would have required the withdrawal of certain regular army troops from China, Hawaii, the Panama canal zone and Germany by July 1, were eliminated from the measure today by the house, a motion to strike out the sections by Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, being adopted by a viva voce vote.

The house approved provisions of the bill allowing $400,000 for construction of additional quarters for troops at Camp Denning, Georgia; $55,000 for an additional ward at Letterman general hospital, San Francisco; $262,000 for general contruction work at Camps Dix, Meade and Lewis, and $198,000 for continuing enlargements of quarters for guards at the Fort Leavenworth, Kas., disciplinary barracks.

MAY APPOINT AMERICAN TO REPARATIONS COMMISSION

Washington, March 24. — President Harding is considering asking congress to authorize appointment of an American as a member of the reparations commission, it was learned today at the White House. Under the separate treaty of peace between the United States and Germany, it was provided that America should have right to a membership in the reparations commission upon election of this government. It was specifically stated, however, in the resolution confirming the treaty that the United States should have no representative on the reparations commission or on any similar body without express authorization from congress.

Campbell, it was announced that the state conference scheduled for this city on June 27, 28 and 29 will be held on June 6, 7 and 8.

RATIFY PACIFIC PACT WITH FOUR VOTES TO SPARE

No Reservation Except "No-Alliance" Declaration Accepted by President Harding

OPPONENTS ACTIVE

Make More Than 20 Unsuccessful Attempts to Qualify Senate Action by Amendments

Washington, March 24. — The four-power Pacific treaty, the center of controversy over accomplishments of the Washington arms conference, was ratified by the senate today with no reservation except the "no-alliance" declaration proposed by the foreign relations committee and accepted by President Harding.

The final vote of 67 to 27, representing a margin of four over the necessary two-thirds, was recorded after the opponents of ratification had made more than 20 unsuccessful attempts to qualify senate action by reservations or amendments distasteful to the administration. On the deciding roll call, 12 Democrats voted for the treaty and only four Republicans opposed it.

Dying hard, the irreconcilable element, which had opposed the treaty on the ground that it establishes an alliance between the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, forced 33 roll calls during a four and a half hours' session set aside for final action on the resolution of ratification. They made their best showing on a proposed reservation to invite outside powers into Pacific conferences affecting their interests, mustering 36 votes for the proposal to 55 in opposition.

The committee reservation was accepted in the end by a vote of 50 to 2, two attempts to modify it failing by overwhelming majorities. It declares that the United States understands that "under the statement in the preamble or under the terms of this treaty, there is no commitment to armed force, no alliance, no obligation to join in any defense."

Opponents to Continue Assault

Although debate was prohibited during the day's session under a unanimous consent agreement, the treaty's opponents raised a point of order in regard to the declaration accompanying the treaty, but not a part of it, and laid the basis for continuing their assault tomorrow when the supplemental treaty defining the scope of the four-power pact comes up for consideration. It is the hope of the administration leaders, however, that the supplemental treaty may be ratified and all that pertains to the four-power arrangement cleared off the senate calendar before tomorrow night.

Throughout the day's voting, a bloc of 53 Republicans stood solidly against all reservations and amendments except the "no alliance" declaration of the committee. The four Republican irreconcilables—Borah of Idaho, France of Maryland, Johnson of California, and LaFollette of Wisconsin—were the only members of their side of the chamber who voted consistently for qualifying proposals, although Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, supported several and Senator Ladd, Republican of North Dakota voted for one.

On the Democratic side there was less unanimity of action. The 23 Democrats who finally voted against ratification voted together on most roll calls in favor of amendments and reservations, but a group of eight or ten stood with their party leader, Senator Underwood of Alabama, in opposition to most of the proposed changes. In the 36 to 55 vote on the "outside powers" reservation, however, Senator Underwood's following reached its minimum strength, only Senator Williams of Mississippi and Senator Myers of Montana joining him on the Democratic side in opposition to the proposal.

ASKS TRANSIT LINE RECEIVER.

New York, March 24. — The Guaranty Trust company of New York will ask the supreme court in Brooklyn to appoint a receiver for the New York and Queens County Railroad company next Monday, it became known today with the publication of the court calendars. The Empire Trust company and the State Transit commission are named as co-defendants.

The Guaranty Trust company acts as a trustee of a first mortgage held by the Steinway Railway company of Long Island City, dated 1892.

HOUSE LAYS BONUS BILL IN SENATE LAP

Measure Finally Sent to Finance Committee; Chairman McCumber Predicts Quick Action

Washington, March 24. — Scarcely had the senate finished its fight over the four-power treaty today when the house laid the long-controverted soldier bonus bill in its lap.

Senate business was halted for the presentation of the measure. There was a suggestion that the bill be referred to the appropriations committee, Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, declared that he did not want it sent to the finance committee, explaining that it might "disturb the bonus bill that it sleeping there."

"There is no telling," he said, "when that bill will wake up and I believe we ought to send this measure to some committee that will act on it."

There followed a squabble as to what committee should consider it, but Senator Wadsworth decreed that it should go to the finance committee.

Chairman McCumber of that committee said the bonus measure could not be taken up until after the tariff bill had been reported to the senate, but he thought there would be quick action on it both in the committee and on the senate floor. He said the tariff bill probably would be sidetracked temporarily in the senate to let it through.

Senator Smoot of Utah, the ranking Republican on the committee, said the measure probably would be materially changed.

"The bonus bill that passes the senate will carry a means of financing it," he declared, adding that the financing would not be done by means of bonds.

FIVE PASSENGERS ON SEA BOAT REPORTED DROWNED

Miami, Fla., March 24. — A wireless message intercepted here tonight from a passing ship said that Robert Moore, pilot of the flying boat Miss Miami, which had been missing for two days, had been picked up at sea and that the five passengers had been drowned. The Miss Miami left here Wednesday for Bimini and an extensive search had failed to locate any trace of the boat or its occupants.

Pueblo, Colo., March 24. — Eight miners are known to have been killed and ten are missing in an explosion which occurred late today in Mine No. 2 near Trinidad. Of four bodies taken out of the mine, only one has been identified.

BOY HEIR BECOMES BOWERY SCULLION

Desire to Experience "Real Poverty" Leads Chicago Youth to Desert School

New York, March 24. — A desire to experience "real poverty" so that he could use his fortune to the best advantage drove Gordon Duffield of Chicago from school in Plainfield, N. J., to become a dishwasher on the Bowery.

This was the story told today by Walter Jackson, who claims to have worked with the boy. A patient in Bellevue hospital, Jackson gave this explanation of the boy's disappearance to Mrs. Graham Duffield, who has come here from Chicago to find her son, heir to a million dollar estate left by his uncle, a resident of Detroit.

The quest of Mrs. Duffield for her son has been surrounded by some mystery since she arrived here. Yesterday it was announced she had got in touch with her son. Later it was explained she had received a telephone call from someone who had represented himself to be Gordon, but that the connection had been broken before she could be sure of his identity. A fruitless search then was made of the Bowery.

WAR EXPLOIT REVEALED

Act Which Brought Honor to Spanish-American Veteran Just Now Unearthed.

San Francisco, March 24.—Congress unearthed a war department secret that remained inviolate for 24 years—the secret of a Spanish-American war spy—when it awarded the Distinguished Service Cross to Brigadier Henry H. Whitney, retired. News of the honor, received at the ninth corps area headquarters here today, brought to light an account of the exploit which won it.

General Whitney was a lieutenant stationed in Porto Rico in 1898. He was sent through the Spanish lines disguised as a British sailor and was nearly through his task when a Cuban senorita, educated in the United States, asked him a question.

"Damned if I know," replied the supposed sailor.

"Diable Americano!" screamed the senorita. "He is an American spy; seize him. British sailors speak not that word!"

"It was tight pinch," said the grizzled soldier in recounting the adventure, "but I got out of it."

The information he furnished the war department was used by General Miles in his campaign in Porto Rico.

Harding Says U. S. Needs Religious Reconsecration

Washington, March 24.— The church can render no higher service at this time than to put forth its utmost influence in behalf of frank and willing obedience to the law of the land, President Harding declared tonight in an address before the bible class of Calvary Baptist church.

Without giving too much weight to alarmist expressions, the President said, "we must nevertheless recognize that there is a very apparent tendency to a lighter and more frivolous view of the citizen's relations to both the state and church." If people who are known as leaders, he added, became known for their defiance of some law, they need not be astonished if their example is followed by others.

At another point, Mr. Harding discussed the "loose talk nowadays about the cause of the spiritual demoralization of the community," and declared that it could not be laid to the war but to a tendency before that period toward "a certain moral laxity, a shifting of standards, a weakening of the sterner fibers."

In his experiences of a year in the White House, he said, "there has come to me no other such unwelcome impression as the manifest religious intolerance which exists among many of our citizens.

"I hold it to be a menace to the very liberties we boast and cherish."

Declaring his belief in the part which religious reverence has played in American achievement, the President added:

"If I were to utter a prayer for this republic tonight, it would be to reconsecrate us in religious devotion, and make us abidingly a God-fearing, God-loving people."

PRICES CONTINUE IRREGULAR COURSE

Junior Rails Strong Features of Early Trading; Steels and Affiliated Issues Strengthen

New York, March 24. —For the third consecutive session, prices of stocks continued their irregular course today. Pressure directed against certain of the more speculative issues indicated an extension of the bear position.

Junior rails, especially Ann Arbor common and preferred and Pere Marquette common and preferred, were strong features of the early trading, advancing one to two points on reports that both systems were to figure in a merger of roads between this center and the Middle West.

Steels almost as a group strengthened appreciably under the lead of Bethlehem. Advices from all mill centers emphasized the increase of manufacture and extreme probability of additional advances in finished and semi-finished products

Affiliated issues of the equipment division, and motors and their subsidiaries also reflected substantial support, Studebaker, Kelsay Wheel, Bosch Magneto and Stromberg Carburetor being the outstanding features

The reverse side of the market was chiefly represented by oils of the domestic and foreign types, also sugars and affiliated specialties and International Paper common and preferred Union Bag and Paper, and several of the utilities, notably American Telephone.

Call money opened and renewed at 4½ per cent., the highest initial quotation of the week, and held at that price until shortly before the close, when the rate dropped to 4¼ per cent

Liberty issues again indicated selling for profits, all but one of that series closing at trifling recessions

Many secondary rails continued fairly active, the most conspicuous features being Ann Arbor and Pere Marquette, which rose one to three points on reports that the two roads were to form the nucleus of a new system between New York and Chicago.

Denies Merger Negotiations

New York, March 24.—E. N. Brown, chairman of the board of directors of the Pere Marquette railway company, denied today that any negotiations were pending for a merger of his company and the Ann Arbor railroad.

Members of the Pere Marquette executive committee also denied any such negotiations were in progress, stating the impression given by published newspaper articles that the Pere Marquette is involved in a projected railroad merger on extensive lines had no foundation in fact.

MRS. LULA VANN FULTON, ARK,

Suggests to Suffering Women the Road to Health

Fulton, Arkansas.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a soreness in my side. I would suffer so badly every month from my waist down that I could not be on my feet half the time. I was not able to do my work without help. I saw your Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and gave it a fair trial. Now I am able to do my work and don't even have a backache every month. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound enough and highly recommend it to those who have troubles like mine. I am willing for these facts to be used as a testimonial to lead all who suffer with female troubles, as I did, to the right road to health."—Mrs. LULA VANN, Box 43, Fulton, Arkansas.

It's this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by word of mouth and by letter, one woman to another, that should cause you to consider taking this well-known medicine, if you are troubled with such symptoms as painful periods, weak, nervous feelings, miserable pains in your back, and cannot work at certain times.

DR. CARPENTER DELIGHTS

Schenevus Audience Hears Interesting Lecture on "Worlds in the Making."

Schenevus, March 24. — The last number of the Schenevus High School Lyceum course was held at Chase & Bennett hall tonight. A large and appreciative audience was highly entertained by the excellent program given.

Dr. Arthur D. Carpenter is perhaps the best known popular lecturer on scientific subjects in America. His subject for the evening, "Worlds in the Making," was handled in such a manner as to hold the attention of even the children during the entire discourse.

As has been fittingly said, he is a veritable whirlwind in his command of words, well chosen, and his attitude regarding his subject and Christianity is such as to enrich and ennoble any community, as well as his expressions on current world subjects, not omitting a good, healthy dash of patriotism. It was not fired way over the heads of his audience. He left a [illegible] they had met him a[illegible] the old fashioned ideas of integrity, honor and love were not extinct in this old world. This one number has proven of sufficient merit to justify the entire course.

Music and a picture on the screen preceded the address of the evening.

Death of Ellen A. Cook.

Ellen A. Cook, 71 years of age, passed away at her home on Main street, Thursday afternoon, about 2 o'clock. Miss Cook was one of four children of Harvey W. and Betsey Ann (Macumber) Cook, and was born on East Hill, on the Smoky avenue road, about three miles outside this village. When she was but seven years of age the family moved into Schenevus village, where they have since resided. The mother died about 46 years ago, the father 27 years ago, and one brother, Albert, three months before the father. The eldest sister was the first wife of R. D Hubbard, who had one son, Ray Hubbard now living in Port Lavaca, Texas. Miss Lavina Cook is the nearest surviving relative. There are cousins living in Cobleskill.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Broxholm will officiate and the body placed in the vault, later in the family plot in Schenevus cemetery.

ONE OF A BRAVE MINORITY.

In the vote on the bonus bill in the house of representatives yesterday only 70 members out of the 403 voting registered their disapproval on the measure. In the New York delegation 28 affirmative votes were cast to 13 in the negative.

John D. Clarke, representative of the 34th district, which includes Broome county, was one of the small minority voting against the bill.

The Binghamton Press has a wholesome respect for any man who has the courage of his convictions. It honors John D. Clarke for his vote on the bonus bill.

In a letter to the editor of the Binghamton Press some time ago, Mr. Clarke said that while he was in favor of any workable method of aiding the veterans of the World war, that he could not vote for any measure that did not in itself provide the means of financing the bonus.

The Fordney bill does not provide any plan of financing and Mr. Clarke in voting against it, voted as his conscience dictated and in doing so voted in support of the stand taken by President Harding on the bonus issue.

It is more than likely that his position on the bonus bill will cost Mr. Clarke many votes in this district should he run for re-election. Should the improbable happen and the losses run large enough to defeat him, he can retire from office with the satisfaction of knowing that he was a member of the minority of 70, who failed to allow political expediency to overrule business judgment.—[Binghamton Press.

The Star has too much confidence in the intelligence of the constituency of Congressman Clarke and of the rank and file of the American Legion members in this district in particular to believe that the vote of the Congressman will cost him as many votes as our esteemed contemporary apparently fears. If an attempt should be made to crystalize the veteran vote against him, it would more than likely double his majority in this district. The voters of Otsego county admire the man who has the courage of his convictions, though it be contrary to the desire of any particular class.

SPRING HARBINGERS

Among Them the Birds.

For the last two or three weeks there have appeared in the columns of the The Star and of many exchanges paragraphs more or less brief announcing the arrival of the first robin or bluebird or other feathered herald of the spring. It has been a pleasure to read about them and to realize that all along our boundaries there are myriads of flying creatures which fled with the approach of winter but, having still in their hearts a memory of northern summers, are waiting eagerly for the south wind to float them back to the lands of their nativity. Soon they will be here in multitudes, and the morning air will be filled with the melody of their song. But, while waiting their coming, may there not be some things which can be done to show the birds that they are not merely tolerated or accepted but actually welcomed.

Furnishing Bird Homes.

There are of course, many birds that prefer to locate and construct their own dwellings, but there are others which gladly accept the assistance of generous humanity in any effort which may be made to diminish the housing shortage. There is scarcely a residence in Oneonta near which one or more bird houses might not be erected; it would be a thoughtful thing should they be all in place before the birds themselves arrive. Properly located and with a view to security from sundry marauders, they would all be occupied and the birds themselves would pay the rent regularly in song through the next six months. Here is a task in which boys and girls might well cooperate in a juvenile building and loan association—building the houses and loaning them to the birds.

Protecting the songsters.

Along similar lines it is properly suggested that housing the birds might well go hand in hand with their proper protection from their natural enemies, among the most prevalent and pernicious of which are cats. Persistent marauders as they are, no feathered folk, whether song birds or chickens, are immune from their attacks, nor are the nests of birds if accessible, at all secure. Thousands of young birds, doubtless, in Oneonta each year fall victims to cats while yet in nests and unable to fly. There are only two reasons ever given for the harboring of cats; one is that they are household pets and the other that they are useful for the extermination of rats and mice. As for the former class of felines, they should be generously fed and kept at home. As for the others, save in stores and warehouses, they are not particularly useful. Six mouse traps at ten cents each are probably worth much more than an equal number of cats in the average home.

Relative to Spring Colds.

Colds are pretty much every year a harbinger, albeit a disagreeable one of spring, and the present year is not in this matter exceptional. The number of cases of colds and the more severe influenza in children has during the past few weeks been notable. Physicians have been busy day and night, and the records of the schools show a very considerable diminution in attendance, due to the prevalent malady. For this reason is is suggested that it would be a good thing should particular care be taken in every instance of such illness, particularly from the fact that influenza is to a great degree contagious. Children at the first symptoms of this disease should be kept at home until the danger is over, alike on their own account and for the safety of others in school or at play with them. Spring colds are a dangerous thing, and not infrequently serious trouble develops from what at first seems an inconsiderable ailment.

Spring and the Back Yard.

Also, it is a not improper intimation that, now that spring is at hand, it is not at all necessary to wait for Mayor Miller, the Chamber of Commerce or any other civic body or official to definitely announce a Clean-Up day or week. The departing snow reveals the rubbish which during the winter has accumulated, and any day now is as good as any other day later for the purpose of disposing of it. What is done at this time will be for the general good, since it will keep truckmen busy and will make it easier for others to procure their services when the real rush of cleaning-up begins. Moreover, a good job done now will be an rush of cleaning-up begins. Inspiration inspiration to others to proceed in similar fashion. If the rubbish is properly and at an early date attended to, there will be very little need for a special season for the work.

The Army Posts.

Secretary Weeks is prepared to show congress that with an army reduced to 115,000 men it will be impossible to man the two hundred posts in the United States. Some will have to be abandoned, and the rest will have a force only large enough to guard the government property. Will this plain statement of fact make any impression upon the amateur strategists who are so much better versed in military matters than General Pershing?— [Philadelphia Inquirer.

Of Course It Was In New York

New York is shocked to learn that one of its citizens has acquired handsome bank balances by the simple expedient of hiring maimed and crippled persons "$3 a day, board, lodging and whisky," to work begging routes in that town. But it is an old story that there is no form of exploitation too low down for the gentry who live by their wits and preying on the gullible or sympathetic in the metropolis.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The Man With The Wrench.

When a farmhand comes along the rural highway looking for a job, it is likely that he will hereafter carry a monkey wrench with him. That will be his only implement. 'Tis the way a farm is run these days of tractors, patent harvesters, threshers, cow-milkers and so on. Not yet does the farmer turn on the lacteal stream with a wrench, but the vacuum thinbumbob that takes the place of the operation once done by fingers and thumbs sometimes needs it.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Nelson's Flagship.

Sentimental English folk are much concerned over the suggestion that Nelson's old flagship the Victory, be broken up and scrapped. Yet from what is reported of her by a writer in the Westminster Gazette it might be just as well to let the present hulk disappear, since she doesn't even remotely resemble the beautiful, dashing clipper ship in which the famous admiral led the way to glory at Trafalgar. She has been so changed and remodeled in the years between that there is scarcely enough of her original oak in her to make a serviceable life-craft. —[Philadelphia Record.

McKean Has Narrow Escape.

The numerous friends of S. E. McKean, the well known golfer, are congratulating him on his narrow escape from joining the celestial choir. It seems that Harry Bard and Elmer Townsend, who have the Treasure Island concession at the Elks' fair, conceived the idea of constructing the island out of white sand. After several carloads had been placed in the desired location and the time arrived for planting of the souvenirs and prizes, McKean, who has been reading considerably about Captain Kidd, offered his services. Bard and Townsend's early civil education having been sadly neglected did not think it necessary to strengthen the walls of the excavation and McKean, who was down in the bottom of the put busy at work, was unaware of anything being wrong until the sandslide took place. Bob Hume and George Slade, who were on the beach endeavoring to keep the savages away from the Hula Hula girls, directed the work of rescue. Treasure Island is the second port call on the Elks' Around the World cruise.

Dairymen's league officials have advised the trustee of the bankrupt Delaware and Green creamery at Arkville that they would be willing to purchase the plant for cash if they could be promised a sufficient supply of milk from farmers who have signed the pooling contract.

Deer Winter in Fine Shape.

Game protectors and guides report the deer herds in fine shape and believe their condition is due to the fact that despite many days of intense cold the deer have been able to move about when feeding.

HAMILTON TROUBADOURS

College Musical Clubs Give Concert of Exceptional Merit at Oneonta Theatre Last Evening Under Auspices of Community Athletic Association.

Somewhere, sometime, somebody said that he cared not who wrote his country's laws if he could write its songs. Such has been the potent power of music "since the morning stars first sang together for joy." And nowhere is that power better shown than with young men, such as the 35 members of the Hamilton College Musical clubs, who last evening at the Oneonta theatre delighted an audience of comfortable size with a program as meritorious as it was varied. Charles Dudley Warner once said that the college singer is the only troubadour left in the world and one needs no better proof of that statement than to listen to such a concert as that of last night.

The numbers perhaps best enjoyed by an audience that was insistent for encores were the speciality numbers. "The Eternal Triangle," three young "stage hands" who sang several humorous selections, accompanying themselves on their banjos, were roundly applauded. The "Big Guns," consisting of character songs by L. D. Bates, accompanied by a banjo-piano-saxophone trio, "got over big." The glee quartet, composed of Messrs. Burns, Macey, Moore and Thompson, were in fine fettle, their rendition of "Annie Laurie" proving especially enjoyable.

The vocal soloist, A. R. Thompson, completely won his audience. Thompson was for many years a boy soloist in Grace church, New York, and has a voice of remarkable quality and unusually well trained. He was handicapped by the size of the theatre but his two selections were thoroughly enjoyed and heartily applauded. The violin soloist, Carl Riedel, gave a pleasing interpretation of the difficult "Song of India."

The Instrumental club, organized by Leader Langtry along the lines of metropolitan dance orchestras with plenty of banjos and saxophones, played several popular hits which were perhaps as keenly enjoyed as any portion of the program. When they launched forth into a selection the impulse to trip the light fantastic was almost irresistible.

Leader Burns had his Glee club trained to perfection and their choral numbers were very well rendered. The club sang several selections of the standard chorus type but their best enjoyed numbers were those Hamilton songs which students are wont to sing "under the campus trees, there in the evening of a college day."

The program closed with the singing of the Hamilton Alma Mater, "Carissima," by the entire personnel of the clubs, augmented by the Hamilton graduates and undergraduates in the audience.

The men, who were entertained last evening in private homes in the city, leave today for Oxford where they appear tonight. Last evening's concert was given under the auspices of the Community Athletic association and netted a substantial sum to the treasury of that organizations.

Bresees Leave for Panama.

President Frank H. Bresee of the Oneonta department store, left yesterday morning, accompanied by his wife, for New York city, whence they sail today, via the Pacific Mail S. S. Columbia for the Canal Zone, various Central American points and San Francisco. Their itinerary brings them to Cristobal April 2 and Balboa the 3rd, with later stops in Salvador and Guatemala, arriving April 22 at San Francisco. The trip homeward will be by rail via Mariposa and the Big Tree groves, and Colorado City, where Mr. Bresee has business in connection with the settlement of the estate of the late Abram Adams, who was an uncle of Mrs. Bresee. They expect to be absent about six weeks, arriving in Oneonta in early May. Many friends will wish them a pleasant journey and a happy return.

Conrad Nagel and Lillian Tucker in "What Every Woman Knows"—A Paramount Picture

Maude Adams' Famous Play by Sir James M. Barrie Picturized

When William DeMille, one of Paramount's master producers, undertook to screen Sir James M. Larrie's celebrated play, "What Every Woman Knows," which will be shown at the Oneonta theatre, next Thursday and Friday; the question of a cast to adequately portray the characters of the great story, was one of primary importance. That Adams and Bruce McRae, who played the leading roles in the American production of the play, should be succeeded in the screen version in the most capable manner was imperative, and to that end Lois Wilson and Conrad Nagel were chosen.

"What Every Woman Knows" was produced at the Duke of York's Theatre in London in 1908, and in the following season it was presented in New York by Charles Frohman with Maude Adams and Bruce McRae in the leading parts. The play scored a huge success and during succeeding seasons it was presented in the principal cities of the country.

The story deals with the fortunes of a yound student with political aspirations who steals into a home of wealth at night to read certain books he is unable to obtain otherwise. He is caught and the result is an agreement that in consideration of the payment to him of $1,500, he will marry the daughter of the household within five years. This provokes unusual and captivating developments, all contributing to make this screen story one of the most entertaining produced this season. The supporting cast is of a high character of excellence.

INCREASES AUTO FEES

New Bill, the Lowman Measure, Bases Registration Charges on Weight of Car if Measure Is Signed by Governor.

The two Lowman bills, providing for different methods of levying automobile and truck registration fees, were passed in the legislature in the closing days of the session and now go to the governor for signature. One measure provides that the registration fee for automobiles shall be fifty cents for each hundred pounds of the machine, fully equipped, if it weighs less than 3,500 pounds, and 75 cents a hundred pounds of it weighs more than 3,500 pounds. This will increase the fee of most automobiles, but will make much simpler the compilation of the fee which is now based on price and horsepower of the car. A minimum fee of $8 is established.

Based on the weight of a few standard touring cars the proposed bill will work out as follows:

1921 model	Present fee	New fee
Buick	$ 12 83	$ 15.00
Cadillac	23 41	30 75
Chevrolet, 490	7.84	9.50
Cole, 870	21 00	27.00
Dodge	10 01	12 50
Dort	8 90	12.00
Essex	10 16	13.00
Ford	7.23	8 00
Franklin, 9B	16 74	12.50
Hudson, S6	16.15	17 00
Hupp, R	10.23	12.50
Maxwell	8 46	10 50
Oakland, 34.3	10.00	12 50
Oldsmobile, 46-S	14 21	16 00
Reo, T6	13 10	15 00
Studebaker, EJ	11.06	12 00

The second bill increases the registration fee for motor trucks from $10 to $15 for trucks of two ton capacity or less; from $15 to $20 for trucks from two to three ton capacity; from $20 to $25 from three to four tons, from $25 to $40 from four to five tons, and provides for increases for trucks up to ten ton capacity for which the fee is $150.

TRAINING CLASS IN MUSIC

Instruction in Community Singing Wednesday, April 15, at Municipal Hall— Two Sessions with C. W. Whitney of Cornell in Charge.

A training class in community singing for leaders in various centers of Otsego county will be conducted at Municipal hall, Oneonta, on Wednesday, April 5, with C. W. Whitney of the State College of Ogriculture in charge. The instruction classes have been arranged by Ralph Q. Smith, extension service agent of the Farm Bureau, and local arrangements have been made for the meeting by Oneonta Chamber of Commerce.

More community singing, which is being recognized more and more as a big factor in community life, is the purpose of this training class, and the endeavor is to secure men and women trained in leading audiences in singing popular songs, so that no center in the county will lack a leader when any occasion arises for community singing.

It is expected that every town and village in the county will be represented at the training class on April 5. The sessions in Oneonta will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. An evening session in Cooperstown is contemplated.

All organizations in Otsego county are invited to have their song leaders present at these sessions to derive the benefits from the instruction Mr. Whitney will give. Oneonta organizations are included in this invitation. Jerry B. Wilson, song leader of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce, as well as of other organizations, has made plans to participate actively in the training class. It is expected that the Woman's club will likwise have representatives at the meeting.

CLEAN UP TO COMMENCE

MAYOR MILLER GOES AFTER WATER STREET WITH DETERMINATION.

After Conference With Board of Health Announces That City's Most Offensive and Vexatious "Catch All" Will Be Cleaned Up and Be Kept Clean.

The spring clean-up is to commence and according to the edict going forth from Mayor Miller yesterday it will commence at the place where perhaps it is most needed—on Water street. By request of the Mayor the board of health met at his office yesterday morning for a conference and the Mayor spoke quite pointedly relative to the condition along that street, and said that he proposed to keep after the street until it is cleaned up and until it is kept clean.

Before the conference ended, it was agreed that Health Officer Augustin should notify the property owners along the street that not later than a certain date which he should fix that they must have their property cleaned of all refuse and that by the same time the city authorities would see to it that the street itself is in condition. The city will undertake to cart away all of the light refuse that is collected along the street, not including of course the coal ashes, provided it has been collected in receptacles.

When the street has been gotten into condition, orders will be given to the city police to arrest any and all offenders, whoever they may be, throwing refuse or garbage or anything of the sort into the street. It is the intention to maintain sufficient police supervision so that those who violate the ordinance are apprehended and brought to answer before the city judge.

It was further mutually understood that the board of health will be more exacting in the future relative to the dumping of garbage within the prescribed area of the city, and Mayor Miller promised the full support of the city administration in efforts to stop all nuisances of this kind. It was said that in the past much objectionable material has been deposited at various places, such as over the bank at Cliff street and alongside the Chinese wall on Chestnut street, and that more attention to stopping these offences should be given.

Repairs to Gas House Bridge.

In this connection it is announced that pending the arrival of the erection of the new iron bridge over the mill race at the gas works, that the present structure will be sufficiently repaired and shored up so that ordinary loads of ashes and refuse gleaned during the spring clean-up can be hauled over that bridge and deposited in accordance with directions of the park superintendent.

There is considerable filling to be done in the outfield at the ball park and dirt from excavations such as that to be made at the corner of Ford avenue and Main street will be hauled across this bridge and into the park. The use of this bridge will save much expense to those who have material to draw away, and it is believed that the use of the present bridge for a few weeks even this spring will more than compensate for the comparatively small expense that the work will cost.

It is expected that before the summer ball season opens the new iron bridge will be in position at this place and that there will be capacity then for 10-ton loads when the bridge is in position.

Citizens generally will heartily endorse the determination of Mayor Miller relative to Water street and will unite with The Star in saying strength to his arm and vigor to his determination.

Kicked Upstairs.

Many of us need to be kicked upstairs. When we are too lazy to climb or even too lazy to hold on, we drop, but we don't drop up. I'm a wizard in helping little fellows to climb upstairs without being kicked up, as I have made their small amounts safely climb upstairs to the tune of several million dollars and am now doing it to the tune of some four million more, yet strange as it may seem, a great mass of chumps whine, cuss and complain when I try to kick them upstairs and to a competency for sickness, old age or loss of a job. Ain't we queer? I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 1t

CHANGES AT THE ONEONTA

DINING ROOM TO BE PLACED IN ROOM NOW OCCUPIED BY BARBER SHOP.

Four Piece Orchestra from New York City Coming April 1 and Will Furnish Music During Luncheon and Dinner Hours and Give Concert Each Evening — Barber Shop at Front at Left of Lobby.

"When we close the main dining room and turn the same over to the Schine Theatrical company for a movie theatre, we will install our dining room in the room where it was originally intended, in the room now occupied by the barber shop," H. M. Stanford of the Hotel Oneonta announced last night. "It will accommodate all of the tables now in the main dining room," Mr. Stanford added, "and we will have a seating capacity for 150 therein by taking out the small tables and replacing them with long ones such as are generally used for banquets and the like we can accommodate very comfortably 200 people, which would cover about all that can be attracted to such an event."

"By changing from a dining room the rental of which is above $3,000, and to light and heat which is costly, to a smaller room the rental of which would be only about $1,200 and less expensive to operate, we can serve a much more elaborate meal. We will be able to serve more courses and have a greater variety. We shall continue to serve a luncheon for 75 cents and dinner at $1, but will serve better meals. It will be directly alongside the kitchen and it will be possible to serve more quickly and with warm foods more palatable. It is believed that the change will prove satisfactory to our patrons.

"The interior of the room to be occupied will be re-decorated by Mr. Prindle, who is now engaged in redecorating the rooms of the hotel.

"Provision will be made for the barbershop of Mr. Reynolds in a room that will be partitioned off the lobby in front of the cigar stand and adjacent to the Murdock Shoe store, with the cigar stand backing against the barber shop. Entrance to the barber shop will be from the lobby. The writing room will be back of the private office as before in the room now occupied by the telephone booths.

"Miss Annette Joslyn of New York city has been engaged to bring her orchestra of four pieces to the hotel for the summer. She will arrive April 1, and the orchestra will play for luncheon and dinner and give a concert evenings. It will render concert music only, no jazz being given. It is composed of a piano, two violins and a cello and it is believed that this feature will be appreciated by the patrons of the hotel. It will be a feature of the meals at the Oneonta during the summer."

ELKS' NIGHT MONDAY

Indications Point to Record Breaking Crowds for Pied Piper of Hamlin.

From all indications, the New Oneonta theatre will be packed to the doors for both performances of the Pied Piper of Hamiln, which will be staged for the benefit of the Oneonta Community association on Monday and Tuesday night, March 27 and 28.

As a special mark of courtesy to Director Hoffman, a Brother "Bill," Oneonta lodge of Elks will send a large delegation to the performance on Monday night, and Tuesday night will be known as Masonic night, with indicated attendance of a large number of that fraternity.

Rarely does it happen that in cities of the size of Oneonta can theatre lovers have the opportunity of listening to really first class music from a chorus of 450 voices, with such exceptional talent in the leading roles. Victor Herbert's music is known throughout the civilized world as second to none and his selections in the Pied Piper are irresistibly catchy.

Special costumes for the entire cast arrived from New York yesterday, together with elaborate scenery, and a complete dress rehearsal will be held at the theatre this morning.

The familiar legend of the Pied Piper of Hamlin has been turned into a musical spectacular pageant, where at the beginning of the story, Piper is seen among other well known characters of myth and fable a top o' the world, where the golden stairs lead up to the rainbow to the city of sunshine in Wonderland.

As far as the book is concerned, the author has furnished an atmosphere of mysticism and picturesque quaintness, and those who like to take their amusements lightly will find infinite enjoyment in the frank fairy quality of the piece.

The inspiring musical numbers of Victor Herbert add just the right touch of mystery and charm to the dramatic story, making the Pied Piper a worthy succesor to the sublimo, dramatic spectacle Peter Pan, the dramatic role so beautifully portrayed by Maude Adams.

GILL GETS SIX MONTHS

Sixteen Year Old Boy Pleads Guilty to Having Stolen Liquor From Miller-Strong Drug Co.—Alfred Smith, his Stepfather, Held for Grand Jury on Bootleg Charge.

Six months in the Otsego county jail was the sentence imposed upon Vincent Gill, 16 years old, who pleaded guilty in city court yesterday morning to having stolen four pints of whiskey from the cellar of the Miller-Strong Drug store. Although the theft of four pints constituted the specific charge of petit larceny against him, Gill admitted that he had stolen 20 pints in small lots during the past month. In all 50 pint bottles of whiskey and 3 and one-half gallons of bulk liquor are missing from the company's prescription supply but Gill disclaims having taken any but the 20 pints.

Gill took care of the furnace in the basement of the Miller-Strong block and thus had access to the cellar. The bottled liquor was stored in a locked cupboard which the boy entered by removing the hinges.

Alfred Smith, his stepfather, who was arrested Wednesday with the boy on the charge of illegal sale of liquor, it being claimed that he peddled the whiskey which his stepson stole, was held by Judge Huntington under $1500 bail for the grand jury, his alleged offense being an indictable misdemeanor. Smith asked for examination of witnesses, which was held yesterday morning. He was represented by Attorney Claude V. Smith.

Funeral of Theodore Cobine.

Funeral services for the late Theodore Cobine were held yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, Arthur Cobine, 67 West street, where he died last Tuesday. Owing to the illness of his widow, Mrs. Mary H. Cobine, the services were private and were attended principally by immediate relatives. Rev. J. C. Johnson, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist church, conducted the brief services, after which the body was placed in the vault at the Plains cemetery for burial later. The bearers were Myron Birdsall, E. B. Marble, Elias Hopkins and John Hopkins. The casket was covered with floral tributes from relatives and friends and from the Maryland Maccabees and the Oneonta telephone operators.

Relatives present at the funeral included Mrs. Charles Makley of Unadilla, Walter Cobine of Rotterdam Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pendlebury of Sidney, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Garlock and Mr. and Mrs. E. The Most Beautiful Car in America

How to Find a Used Car Bargain

The astonishing conditions now prevailing in the used car field assure genuine bargains only when the purchaser makes sure of certain facts.

First—Select a car that is of reputable make—whose name plate has always stood for quality and reputation in its class.

Second—Know what you are buying. Insist on knowing the condition the car is in. The importance of operating and maintenance costs applies as much to used as to new cars.

Third—Buy from a reputable dealer who has a reputation to protect and preserve. Do business with the dealer who is willing to give you all the facts and who can and will guarantee your title.

Our reputation rests as much on the used cars we have sold as on the new ones. Thanks to recent price reductions to pre-war levels we have some of the biggest values in used cars we have ever known. Come in and examine them.

We guarantee our used cars to be exactly as represented or money refunded

BAR MEETINGS SCHEDULED

Prof. J. D. Brew of Cornell on Milking Machines — County Agent on Problems of the Season.

The Bureau has arranged for ten barn meetings which will be held during the week of April 17, the schedule for which may be found below. Prof. J. D. Brew of the Dairy Industry Dept. of the College of Agriculture, and the county agent will attend these meetings. Prof. Brew is an exprct on milking machine operation and will discuss with the men who attend, any problems which they may have. He is on record as having said that the modern milking machine will do satisfactory work, and if they are not used it is because of the operator rather than of the machine. Milkers will produce the cleanest of milk when properly cared for, but when neglected or cleaned incompletely because of wrong methods, the milk will teem with bacteria. Any milking machine operator would profit by attending one of these meetings.

The county agent offers to assist any one on any problem. If he cannot give the information desired, he will endeavor to secure it. Working this year without an assistant, he will be unable to make a large number of farm calls, consequently he must meet members of the bureau and others in groups. When attending these barn meetings he will be prepared to distribute at cost, formalin to treat oats for smut, corrosive sublimate to treat seed potatoes and iodoform ointment to treat cattle grubs.

A large number of persons shotld attend these meetings. Those held in the morning will begin at 9:30 o'clock and those in the afternoon at 1:30. The schedule is as follows:

April 17, A. M.—Milford, Martin & Mainard; April 17, P. M.—Cherry Valley, A. B. Cox. April 18, A. M.—East Springfield, Fayette Branch; April 18, P. M.—Richfield, Frank Walker. April 19, A. OUR WIRELESS ENTHUSIASTS

Warned to Exercise Care in Installation of Radios—Wiring and the Insurance Code.

Oneonta district wireless enthusiasts are experiencing difficulty in getting their orders filled for radio sets and equipments. So great is the demand from all over the country that the radio factories are months behind in filling their orders. Local dealers who report delays say that never before was there such a demand. The radio craze is sweeping the country like the bicycle and auto manias, which preceded it.

H. W. Whitaker, underwriters electrical inspector for this district, in co-operation with Charles Choate, Fire Chief, is visiting the wireless stations throughout the district and trying to enforce compliance with the national wiring laws. But the stations are increasing so rapidly, they report it is impossible to keep up with them. Several new stations are opened daily and often they do not hear from them at all.

All should be inspected, they say and all should comply with the rules of the national code. While the laws are indefinite in this direction, there are certain things that all should do. The greatest trouble is about the aerials. These are exposed outside of buildings, subject to the elements and often act as a free conductor in times of electrical storms. A streak of lightning may strike the aerial, and if it has not been properly grounded and left with its grounding at work through use of a switch or cut-off, outside the house, the lightning may invade and set fire to the house. Attempt should be made by each owner to standarize his system. There should be a double throw switch which will effectually ground any current on the wieres when the instruments inside the building are not at work.

In event of failure to regard this precaution, if fire arises and loss of property ensues, through defect in grounding for the aerial, it may make collection for loss more difficult. Indoors all the wiring should be installed as required by the electrical code.

Mr. Holdredge Recovering

Adrian Holdredge of West Burlington, who has been at the Wanna sanitarium for several days suffering from blood poison resulting it is said from slight trouble as a hang nail at first, is improving under the care of Dr. Latcher. His mother, Mrs. Dan Holdredge of Edmeston, has been at the home of J. E. Holdredge to be near him so that she could drop in on him each day. His brother, Earl Holdredge of Syracuse, was here Thursday night to call upon him. The sick man is believed to be much better for he is now bewailing the fact that he will be unable to participate in the trout fishing on the opening day, a week from today.

Installing Lighting System.

C. C. Miller has the contract for the installation of a Silent Alma lighting system at the Beaver Spring farm and summer hotel of Shoyer & VonNeer at Davenport. Mr. Shoyer was in the city yesterday conferring with Mr. Miller relative to the installation. This is the third plant of the kind that Mr. Miller has installed in that immediate vicinity.

THE simplicity of construction and ease of upkeep which have been attained in the Durant Four are preserved in the new six-cylinder car, in spite of its greater size and power.

Mechanically, this Six includes every distinguishing feature of Mr. Durant's four-cylinder car, which he describes as "Just a Real Good Car," and which has already demonstrated how very good "a real good car" can be.

Among these features is the Tubular Backbone in the frame (patent applied for), which relieves undue strain on the driving units and prevents squeaks and rattles in the body.

THE ANSTED MOTOR has been adopted for the Six. Its excellent performance combined with the Durant simplified chassis construction makes this car very satisfying to its owners.
